Saving Democracy

A Do-it –yourself primer

Steven Hill, says that American democracy has been working about as well as the levees around New Orleans. Hill, who is author of 10 Steps to Repair American Democracy and director of the New America Foundation's Political Reform program, establishes that American democracy is rooted in outdated methods and practices, from voting equipment to the way we elect the President and Congress. He outlines ways for overhauling and reinvigorating our political system and presents a comprehensive vision for how American democracy could work, and the reforms that will take use there -- from a more robust election administration regime to a national election holiday to free airtime for candidates to direct election of the President, term limits for Supreme Court justices, media reform, campaign finance reform, instant runoff voting, universal voter registration, and the end of winner take-all elections. We will use this book as a source for drawing out some leading aspects of our discussion. We are also grateful to have the assistance of Rebecca Steel of our local ACLU region to examine the legal context.

Remember,

following our meeting, we will get together at the

Farmer Boy Restaurant

at 2129 Drew St. just a few blocks west of the Library.

Those of us who have sampled the cuisine came away well satisfied, and without substantial detriment to our personal wealth.

Rebecca Steele

Regional Director, ACLU

REBECCA HARRISON STEELE is the Director of the ACLU of Florida's West Central Florida regional office. She came to the ACLU from private law practice with her own law firm, which she formed after working as an attorney with the Trenam, Kemker and Holland & Knight law firms. Ms. Steele is an AV-rated lawyer and an experienced appellate attorney who clerked for the Honorable Charles R. Wilson for the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit. She received her law degree, magna cum laude, from the Stetson University College of Law, where she was an articles and symposium editor for the Stetson Law Review. Ms. Steele has served as an adjunct professor at Stetson University College of Law, and writes and speaks frequently on civil rights issues. Before becoming a lawyer, Ms. Steele was a stage director and an adjunct professor of theater at the University of South Florida and the University of Tampa. She is a past president of the Board of Directors for the community radio station WMNF-FM, and is also a past president of the Hillsborough Association for Women Lawyers. Currently she serves on the board of the Florida Association for Women Lawyers and the Trial Lawyers Section of the Hillsborough County Bar Association. Other past bar involvement: Co-Chair of the Employee Benefits Committee of The Florida Bar Section of Labor and Employment Law; Co-Chair of the Ethics Subcommittee of the ABA Section of Labor and Employment Law Employee Benefits Committee (including serving as a contributing author for the BNA treatise, Employee Benefits). Honors are listings in the 2006 & 2007 Florida Trend "Legal Elite" as well as the 2006 Florida Super Lawyers.

What do Humanists Want?

1. To extend a human centered approach to the critical problems of life and society.
2. To encourage attitudes of kindness, compassion, tolerance and a loving generosity in human relationships, and in our treatment of all life. These attitudes help us to see ourselves in the lives of others and encourage appreciation for the remarkable diversity of human culture and experience.
3. To develop and popularize the skills of creative and critical thinking that empower people to challenge prejudice, superstition and irrationality in every area of life. Such empowerment enables the individual to reach the highest levels of achievement.
4. To exalt those artistic and imaginative expressions of life which have been the source of the greatest pleasure and enlightenment, and which reflect compelling human truths. Through music, literature, art, dance, and other expressions, we embrace the essence of the human spirit.
5. To explore the grounds of ethics and morality within the unfolding history of our evolving culture. Such knowledge will enable us to become effective protagonists for the happiness of the individual person. JP
